About Myself:

I come from a family of educators; my wife Michelle is also in education; we have three beautiful children: Haley, Presley, & Braden. I really enjoy spending time with my family, either going to the beach, mountains, or just hanging around by the swimming pool. Growing up in a large family has been a blessing. We get together for just about any occasion which gives all of the younger kids time to get to play and visit with one another and a time for the adults to share stories, new and old. On my spare time I enjoy playing golf with my buddies. Officiating college basketball is my avocation, which I thoroughly enjoy.

Teaching Philosophy:

Teaching in the alternative education system has been a fun and interesting time. As an alt-ed teacher, I feel that it is my duty to not only teach physical education, but to teach the students the importance of developing and using proper social skills. I also feel it important to get them to look at the big picture as it relates to life and education as most of them have been going through life with blinders on. I believe that with the help of the other staff members at our school, we can make a difference in those who want to change his/her life.
