Degree(s)/Certification(s):

BA Liberal Arts,
Multiple Subject Teaching
Credential

Education:

I spent two years at Citrus Jr. College, transferred, and completed my bachelor's degree and my multiple subject credential at Cal State University of Bakersfield

Teaching Experience: This is my second school year working with community school students. I previously taught English and P.E. for 7th, 8th, and 9th graders and am now teaching 5th, and 6th graders on the west campus at the Kelly F. Blanton Center.

About Myself: I grew up in Azusa, California and am one of the oldest of four brothers. I say "one of the oldest" because I share that title with my twin brother Vince. I graduated from Gladstone High School and was an active student, participating in baseball, football, and wrestling all four years of high school while maintaining a 3.5 grade point average. After High School I enrolled at Citrus College where I later transferred to CSUB. I completed my bachelor's and multiple subject credential at CSUB, and met some wonderful professors and teachers along the way. During that time I learned that I had a passion working with kids of all ages and enjoy educating their eager minds. I now have two eager young minds at home as I am a father of two, which I enjoy raising with my wife Abigail.

Teaching Philosophy: I believe that every student who comes into my classroom has the ability to learn as long as they're willing to try. Quitting or giving up in my classroom is unacceptable. I often quote Vince Lombardi reminding them that "Winners never quit and quitters never win." I feel that this philosophy not only holds up in the classroom, but in life as well.
