

Joss House

Joss Houses were places of worship that met the religious needs of Chinese residents. The building at the museum is not an original, but the artifacts inside the building were provided by the local Chinese community.